Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 34-40,42-47,49,51-53,80-96 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hochschuler et al. (6,740,093).

With respect to claims 80-91,93-96, Hochschuler et al disclose a kit of parts for sealably introducing fluent material directly into a disc space throuth an opening extending through the annulus fibrosis of the disc comprising: a tube (24) having a passageway for the flow of fluent material (36) therethrough and an extent adapted to be received in the opening of the annulus fibrosis; as best seen in the FIGS; the tube having a seal (82) adapted to engage said annulus fibrosis adjacent the opening and to form a fluid-tight seal therewith; asset forth in column 6, lines 37-42, and a quantity of curable fluent material (36) adapted to be introduced in a fluid state into the disc space through the passageway of the tube, the material upon curing having properties substitutive of the nucleus pulposus; as set forth in column 3, lines 20-67, column 4, lines 1-65, column 6, lines 29-67, column 7, lines 1-34; and as best seen in FIGS.1-28.

With respect to the method claims 92,34-40,42-47, 49,51-53, the method steps, as set forth, would have been inherently carried out in the operation of the device, as set forth above. The method steps, such as , creating an opening through the disc annulus fibrosis; as best seen in FIG.1, distracting the vertebral bodies apart to increase disc height, FIG.3; sealably introducing under pressure a curable biomaterial having properties substitute of nucleus pulposus when cured through the opening contiguously into the intradiscal space until the intradiscal space is substantially filled; column 3, lines 60-67, column 4, lines 1-20, column 6, lines 37-42; column 7, line 29; maintaining the seal and the pressure until the biomaterial is substantially cured in situ; column 6, lines 36-42, column 7, lines 25-34.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 54-65,69-72 are allowed.

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed 2/15/07, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 34-40,42-47,49,51-53,80-92 under 102 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Hochschuler et al.
